

Ajax Scuba Club 2026 Dive Schedule

| Date                  | Dive location                                    | Boat/Shore | Level                       | # Divers | Cost  | Dive Description                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Camping Notes                                                                                                                              |
|-----------------------|--------------------------------------------------|----------------|-----------------------------|----------|-------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| May 30 & 31           | OPEN                                             |                |                             |          |       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                            |
| Jun 6 & 7             | OPEN                                             |                |                             |          |       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                            |
| Jun 13 & 14           | Spring Class OW Weekend, Marmora                 |                |                             |          |       | Open Water Dives for students in our Spring 2026 Open Water Course. Students OnlyINSTRUCTOR Jason Kittle, DM's Jocelyn Wilson, Jenn McDonald & Brad Ridge                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Great Canadian Campgrounds, Booster Park, or local B&B's, motels and www.rvezy.com                      |
| Sat Jun 20            | Family Picnic & Shore Dive, Crowe River, Marmora | Shore          | 1 (suitable for new divers) | 22       | $15  | Start the dive season with a Pot Luck BBQ lunch and shore dives on the Crowe River in Marmora. Slow drift dive, layered limestone, fish & crayfish to see. 5 mil suit or warmer recommended. Whole family welcome, no charge for non-divers attending the picnic only. Approx 2 hr drive from Ajax. Water temp ~75FEmail social@ajaxscubaclub.on.ca with numbers for picnic. Email divecoordinator@ajaxscubaclub.on.ca to register for diving. Dive Master: Rick Bates | Crowe Valley Resort, Booster Park, Great Canadian Campgrounds, or local B&B's, motels and www.rvezy.com |
| Sat June 27           | Kingston, Lake Ontario - 1 Day                   | Boat           | 1                           | 12       | $130 | Two boat dives, morning departure. Wrecks planned: Wolfe Islander & the KPH wreck. Depths 40-90 depending on experience level. 7mm or warmer recommended. Some previous experience recommended.Dive Master: Brad Ridge                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | No accomodation planned.                                                                                                                   |
| Jul 4 & 5             | Open                                             |                |                             |          |       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                            |
| Jul 11 & 12           | Open                                             |                |                             |          |       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                            |
| Sat Jul 18            | Rockport (US Dives) - Day 1                      | Boat           | 3                           | 12       | $165 | Two boat dives, morning departure leaving Rockport to US side of St Lawrence River. PASSPORT MANDATORY . Wrecks: Vickory and Keystorm. Water temp 72F+, 5mm wetsuit or warmer recommended, depths 40' to 110'.Dive Master: Rick Bates                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Camping at St Lawrence Park, or Ivy Lea, lots of hotels & BnB's in the area and www.rvezy.com           |
| Sun Jul 19            | Brockville - Day 2                               | Boat           | 3                           | 12       | $150 | Morning departure St. Lawrence Park, 2 boat dives. 5mm wetsuit or warmer recommended. Wrecks: Lilly Parsons & Daryaw Depth 40' to 95'. Lots of current!Divemaster: Rick Bates                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                            |
| Sun Jul 26            | P.B. Locke- Port Hope FULL               | Boat           | 2                           | 6        | $140 | Two boat dives to wreck of P.B. Locke, located 3 km off the shore of Port Hope. Lots of artifacts on the site like ship's bell, galley stove, dishes, anchor and more. Depth is 80', visibility from 10' – 50' and very cold water.Dive Master: Jason Kittle                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | No accomodation planned.                                                                                                                   |
| Sat Aug 1 & Sun Aug 2 | Brockville Shore Dives                           | Shore          | 1                           | 18       | $15  | Dive sites: Centeen Scuba Park Sat morning, Prescott Scuba Park in the aft. On Sunday Conestoga wreck, then canal drift dive from lock 28. All easy shore dives with some challenging currents involved. 5mm wetsuit or warmer recommended. Water: 72F+ .Max Depth 45'. Some previous experience recommended, involves current.Dive Master: Rick Bates                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Camping at St Lawrence Park, local motels or BnB's in Brockville.                                                                          |
| Aug 8 & 9             | Open                                             |                |                             |          |       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                            |
| Aug 15 & 16           | Open                                             |                |                             |          |       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                            |
| Sat Aug 22            | Penetanguishene, Georgian Bay FULL       | Boat           | 1 (suitable for new divers) | 12       | $150 | ONE DAY of diving with moderately warm water & great visibility. 5mm wetsuit or warmer recommended. Up to 3 dives. Wrecks are in shallow water, including Maple Dawn, Marquette, Lotte Wolf, Michigan and others. Boat leaves from Cedar Point, about 2 1/4 hrs from Ajax. Max depth 45'. Water: 70F+Dive Master: Joceyln Wilson                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | No accomodation planned.                                                                                                                   |
| Sat Aug 29            | Picton Lake Ontario - Afternoon Dive             | Boat           | Level 3                     | 12       | $165 | Two tank boat dives. Deep & cold dives, wrecks possible: Mowat, Eureka, Sheboygan, etc. Depths up to 110' Afternoon departure from Wapous Marina near Picton, back 7pm. 7mm or dry suits recommended.Dive Master: Jason Kittle                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | No accomodation planned.                                                                                                                   |
| Sep 5 & 6             | Open                                             |                |                             |          |       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                            |
| Sat Sep 12            | Moon River Bala                                  | Shore          | 1 (suitable for new divers) | 18       | $15  | Two dives in the Moon River in Bala. One in the morning, one after lunch. Lots to see, easy dives from shore. 5mm or warmer recommended. Max depth 40'. Approx 2:20 drive from Ajax.Dive Master: Jocelyn Wilson                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | No accomodation planned.                                                                                                                   |
| Sat Sep 19            | Shanty Bay Lake Simcoe                           | Shore          | 1 (suitable for new divers) | 18       | $15  | Two easy shore dives in Lake Simcoe, depths from 20' to 100'. 7mm or warmer recommended 2x tanksDive Master: Jenn McDonald                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | No accomodation planned.                                                                                                                   |
| Sep 26 & 27           | Open                                             |                |                             |          |       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                            |

Contact the Dive Coordinator to sign up for any dive at: dive@ajaxscuba.club

E-transfers to: (NOTE WHO AND WHAT IT'S FOR!) treas@ajaxscuba.club